

Another negro stampede has been frustrated in Kentucky. Some forty slaves have arranged to steal horses and escape, but were betrayed by one of their number. Patrick Doyle, a white man, engaged in assisting the negroes who escaped some months since, and were mostly retaken in Ohio, has been sentenced to 20 years in the Penitentiary.