
STAMPEDE.—Sometime Tuesday night, seven negro men, the property of the Messrs. Arterburn, in this city, broke out of their “quarters,” and ran off. We suppose they are “pre-lying,” or lying out in some of the cornfields in the county. Several of them had heavy “bracelets” on.
