

"Another Slave Stampede at Baltimore," Salem (MA) Observer, August 10, 1850
<https://stampedes.dickinson.edu/document/salem-ma-observer-another-slave-stampede-baltimore-august-10-1850>

Another Slave Stampede at Baltimore.—
Seven runaway slaves were re-captured by a party from Baltimore, on Thursday, at a place a mile across the Pennsylvania line. As they were returning with them through Sprattsburgh, some abolitionists made a rush at them, and rescued two of the slaves. After a smart contest in which one of the slaves wounded himself in attempting to shoot his captor, the five were brought to Baltimore in irons.