

A Stampede of Slaves.

MAYSVILLE, Ky., Sept. 29.—Thirty-one slaves escaped from this place a day or two ago to Ripley, Ohio, where they concealed themselves, and had not been arrested at the last accounts. The Kentuckians are on the alert, as trouble is anticipated, if they are not given up immediately by the authorities.

[SECOND DISPATCH.]

MAYSVILLE, Sept. 29.—The clothes taken by the slaves were found concealed in a yard and the owners were refused a warrant to search the house in which it was supposed most of the slaves were hid. Five who had remained on were pursued by their masters and three captured. They are expected to be brought over tonight.

The negroes of Ripley gathered in numbers, armed with guns, and surrounded the hotel where the Kentuckians stopped. Fears are entertained of a serious disturbance, as the Kentuckians remain there on the watch, and are determined to recover the slaves.

Much indignation is felt here because the committees of Ripley refused to assist the masters in granting warrants.
