

Albany (NY) Evening Journal, September 22, 1853
<https://stampedes.dickinson.edu/document/albany-ny-evening-journal-september-22-1853>

Still another slave stampede came off a few miles below Maysville, on Wednesday night last. Five negroes—three of them very fair and delicate mulatto girls—succeeded in crossing the river. All trace was lost a few miles back of Ripley, Brown county.—[Cin. Com., Monday.