

☞ Still another slave stampede came off a few miles below Maysville, a few nights since. Five negroes—three of them very fair and delicate mulatto girls—succeeded in crossing the river. All trace was lost a few miles back of Ripley, Brown county.—Cincinnati Commercial.