

Stampeding Slaves.—But one of the five slaves who left their owners of this city, about three weeks since, has been captured. On Tuesday, we learn through the Post, two more suddenly left—one of them having said to some of the children in his master's house that he had 'made it all right with a man, and was going to leave soon.'—Richmond Enquirer.