

About sixty slaves ran away on Tuesday last from their respective masters, living near the Annapolis Junction. Messrs. WM. ANDERSON RANDOLPH, ABRAHAM WOODWARD and CHARLES HAMMOND are the principal losers by this wholesale stampede. They are supposed to have gone to Washington, D. C.